

June 2003

From the Desk of J. R. Brandt DC, FACO
President, Academy of Chiropractic Orthopedics

Good Morning Doctor:

The Academy Board meets this month to discuss some upcoming projects. Last month I mentioned that the Academy has the opportunity to become involved with an office supply company to assist the membership with decreasing your cost of doing business. This month I can tell you this possibility has even gotten better. In addition to the office supplies, we have two companies competing for medical supplies. These options will be decided upon at the Board meeting. The July e-letter should have some details about the plans and how you will be able to implement them for your office.

I have just received a phone call from a Fellow regarding his re-certification from the Academy being accepted from one of his managed care companies. Re-certification is an area that we will be focusing on in the future. We want to continue to improve this service for you. If you have any questions or would like some information don't hesitate to contact the Academy at 515-981-9654.

This is a call for papers for presentation at the American College of Chiropractic Orthopedists (ACCO) convention at Disney World. Exact dates will be announced in a future e-letter. I would encourage you to send a case for the website. Please send it to Dr. Gene Toon; PO Box 3475 Granada Hills, California 91394-0475.

Have a Great July 4th week-end!
